Pope Message

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

The Rosary as a Powerful Spiritual Weapon

Pope Leo XIII emphasized that the Rosary is a spiritual weapon against evil, especially in times of crisis for the Church and the world. He wrote that the Rosary has a “divine power to overcome the evils of society”, uniting the faithful in prayer and leading them closer to Christ.

“The Rosary is the most excellent form of prayer and the most efficacious means of attaining eternal life. It is the remedy for all our evils, the root of all our blessings.”—Pope Leo XIII, Encyclical Octobri Mense (1891).

The Rosary: A School of Faith and Contemplation

For Pope Leo, the Rosary was not merely a repetition of prayers but a means of meditating on the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

He taught that through the mysteries of the Rosary, Christians learn the truths of the Gospel and grow in holiness.

“In the Rosary all Christian mysteries are gathered and represented, and with them are joined the chief acts of virtue of which our salvation depends.”—Supremi Apostolatus Officio (1883)

The Rosary as a Family Prayer

Pope Leo XIII strongly urged families to pray the Rosary together, saying that it strengthens unity, peace, and faith in the home. He believed that the Rosary could restore harmony in society beginning with the family. "If the family of Christians duly keep up this pious custom, they will most certainly obtain help from heaven." — Magnae Dei Matris (1892)

The Rosary and Mary's Motherly Intercession

Pope Leo consistently reminded the faithful that Mary, through the Rosary, intercedes powerfully for her children. By meditating with Mary, we enter more deeply into the mysteries of Christ and receive her maternal protection.

"It is impossible to meditate upon the mysteries of the Rosary and live in sin. Mary's intercession renews the soul and brings peace."

The Rosary as a Prayer for Peace and Renewal

At a time of wars, social upheaval, and attacks on faith, Pope Leo XIII called the Rosary the "anchor of hope for nations". He asked that every October be dedicated to the Holy Rosary and that public recitations be encouraged.

"Let all Christian people, with humble and trusting hearts, invoke through the Rosary the powerful aid of the Blessed Virgin Mary in all trials and dangers." — Laetitia Sanctae (1893)

POPE LEO XIV

Provincial Message

Dear Brethren in Christ Jesus,

October month is a month that invites all who love Mother of God demanded to pray rosaries as many times we can. Therefore, I would like to throw the light on 'why do we, as Catholics, hold the Rosary so dear?' the importance of praying rosary and its' impact. The Rosary is not just a prayer of repetition; it is a prayer of the heart, a prayer of love, and a prayer of power. Every bead we touch, every Hail Mary we whisper, is a step we take with Mary into the life of Jesus. Through the Joyful, Sorrowful, Luminous, and Glorious mysteries, we walk with Him from the crib to the Cross, from the tomb to the glory of Heaven.

The Rosary is a weapon against the darkness of the world. It guards our souls, strengthens our families, and heals our wounds. As St. Padre Pio said, "The Rosary is the weapon for these times." When life confuses us, the Rosary brings clarity. When sorrow weighs us down, it brings peace. When families grow apart, it brings unity.

Praying the Rosary is simple: begin with the Creed, the Our Father, the Hail Marys, and the Glory Be. Announce each mystery, and then slowly meditate seeing Jesus, hearing His words, feeling His presence.

Don't just recite enter into the mystery. Offer each decade for something close to your heart for your family, for the sick, for peace in our world, for those in need.

And most of all, personalize it. Let every bead become a chain of love binding you to Heaven. See Mary beside you, whispering your name before the throne of God. Feel your heart becoming calmer, your faith growing stronger, and your love for Jesus deepening. The Rosary is not a burden it is a gift, a lifeline, a fountain of grace.

Dear friends, take the beads in your hand. Pray not with your lips only, but with your heart. Make it your daily companion. Through the Rosary, you will find strength in weakness, peace in trials, and light in darkness.

The Rosary is a journey. A journey with Mary into the Heart of Jesus; Let us walk it daily.

With prayers and blessings,

Communication Skill Development

Greetings and prayerful wishes from Sr. A. veronica

Your personality grows when you can connect with others in meaningful ways. Communication skills, like active listening and understanding others, are crucial for building strong relationships. Imagine a good conversation as a bridge that brings people closer.

In this blog, we'll explore how good communication skills and personality development can greatly impact your personal growth. As Tony Robbins wisely notes, The way we communicate with others and with ourselves ultimately determines the quality of our lives, underlining the profound influence of effective communication on our overall well-being.

Why is communication important?

Communication is like the heartbeat of how people connect, decide things, and work together. It's not just about talking; it's the way we build relationship, make choices, and get things done. Let's look at the importance of communication

Personal Relationships

Expressing thoughts, sharing experiences, and actively listening create a bond of understanding and trust, effective communication allows couples, friends, and family members to navigate challenges, resolve conflict, and celebrate shared joys, contributing to the resilience and richness of relationships.

Professional success

From job interviews to daily interactions at work, the ability to convey ideas clearly and collaborate effectively is paramount. A survey by the national Association of colleges and employers found that effective communication skills top the qualities employers seek in new hires. Strong communication enhances individual performance and fuels leadership qualities, teamwork, and career development.

When we faced with challenges, communication becomes a dynamic tool for finding solutions. Open and effective communication allows for exchanging ideas, perspectives, and insights, leading to more informed problems-solving and better decision-making. Teams that communicate well can tap into the collective intelligence of their members. Fostering innovative approaches to complex issues.

Building confidence

As individual become skilled communicators, they articulate their viewpoints effectively and develop a sense of assurance in their abilities. This new found confidence extends beyond communication skills, positively impacting various aspects of life, from personal interactions to professional presentations and public speaking engagements.

Decision – Making

sharing information , discussing options, and considering diverse viewpoints are integral to effective decision –making clear and transparent communication ensures that decisions are well –informed inclusive and collectively agreed upon. In professional settings, this collaborative approach to decision - making not only enhances the quality of choices but also promotes a sense of ownership among team members.

Leadership

Leadership and effective communication are inseparable. Leaders. Leaders who can communicate a compelling vision, inspire their team, and provide clear direction often achieve success.

Communication is a cornerstone of leadership, influencing team dynamics, organization culture, and overall success.

A study by Harvard Business Review found that strong communication skills are essential for leadership success. Leaders who prioritize communication creates open and transparent environment skills are essential for leadership success.

Conclusion:

In essence, communication is not just a skill to be mastered; it's a fundamental aspect of personal and professional growth. Whether building leaderships, navigating challenges, or leading a team, the ability to communicate effectively is a stepping stone for success in various phases of

Reborn As Religious

Introduction

I am truly honored and delighted to write an article on the inspiring book Reborn as Religious authored by our beloved Founder Father. This book is filled with profound thoughts and powerful words that have deeply touched my heart. It has not only guided me in my spiritual journey but also inspired deep personal reflection. I am grateful for the opportunity to share some insights and personal views that I have gained through reading this remarkable work.

Reborn

"Reborn" generally means born again or regenerated, often with a spiritual or metaphorical meaning. They believe that people are reborn after death. to start to exist or to become active again: The old abandoned buildings have been reborn.

In Christianity, being "born again Means

In Christianity, being "born again" or experiencing rebirth signifies a spiritual transformation where a person, through faith in Jesus Christ, receives a new spiritual life from God.

Some Example from Bible

In the Holy Bible, both in the Old and New Testaments, we find many people who were spiritually reborn and received God's blessings and miracles in their lives.

Some powerful examples from the New Testament include Nicodemus, Saul who became Paul, Mary Magdalene, and the Prodigal Son.

Each of these individuals had a deep encounter with Jesus, and that encounter changed their lives forever. Through His love, forgiveness, and guidance, they were reborn spiritually. Their lives became strong examples of faith, transformation, and the power of God's grace.

Reborn as Religious

To be reborn as a religious is not easy. It is not something we can achieve by our own strength. True rebirth is only possible through the grace of God the Father.

To be reborn means to surrender ourselves completely to Jesus to offer our whole life to Him, holding nothing back. Yes, it is possible, but only when we open our hearts fully and allow Jesus to take control. As good religious, we are called to have a personal encounter with the Lord. This encounter transforms us from within. It leads us to live the values of Jesus every day showing mercy to others, walking in humility, and choosing love over pride or selfishness.

Prayer is the key. Daily prayer is essential to remain connected with the Lord. It strengthens us, comforts us, and reminds us of our mission. Through prayer, we grow closer to Jesus and become more like Him.

To be reborn is to begin again with God, to live not for ourselves but for Him and for others. It is a journey of love, sacrifice, and deep joy.

Conclusion

Finally, I am glad to end my article by saying that being reborn as a religious means receiving a new heart a heart ready to be filled with the Gospel values of love, sacrifice, forgiveness, and compassion.

When I choose to cultivate these virtues in my daily life, with sincerity and faith, I believe that I am truly being reborn as a good religious—one who lives not for self, but for Christ and His mission.

The wisdom of Christ: Living according to God's Will

The wisdom of Christ is not a mere intellectual knowledge rather it is a transformative force, rooted in an intimate relationship with God, learned through Sacred Scripture, and fully embodied in the person of Jesus Christ, who is the very essence and model of our life. This forms the foundation of every religious vocation a life offered to God and humanity with total dedication. We look to Jesus, our Master and Guru, to learn how to live according to God's will. As the Scripture says, "In whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge" Colossians 2:3.

God's Will and Jesus' Mind-Set

The mind-set and commitment of Jesus that always inspire me are found in His words: "Not my will, but Yours be done" (Luke 22:42) and "My food is to do the will of the Father who sent me and to finish His work" (John 4:34). These highlight His unwavering dedication to God's mission. Just as food sustains the body, doing God's will sustain the soul. In a world driven by appetite, ambition, and self-fulfillment, Jesus reorients us to a higher purpose: living for God's mission.

The first task of a religious is to be ready to do God's work. As Fr. Founder says, "The making of DMI & MMI captures the spirit of missionary readiness giving up personal likes and even legitimate wishes to choose the right direction and receive empowerment." Being a religious is more than following routines of prayer and community life; it means doing God's will and loving unconditionally, without division. The Call or Vocation

A religious vocation is a union of God's call and our free response. Every Christian is called to witness Christ and serve like Him. Our calling flows not from our plans, but from a personal encounter with Jesus an experience of God as Abba. The first step in vocation is knowing who I am: my identity as a beloved child of God, and my core competency gifts, talents, and purpose given for mission.

Scriptural Parallels: Choices and Consequences

Self-Will& Consequence	God's Will& Reward
Lot chose the valley → Lost everything	Abraham obeyed → Inherited the Promised Land
Miriam and Aaron sought recognition → Rebuked	Moses obeyed → Led Israel
Saul disobeyed → Lost kingship	David submitted → Became king
Judas chose money → Lost life	Peter repented → Became Vicar of Christ
Old Eve sought her own will → lost paradise Old Adam sought his own will → Lost paradise	New Eve Mary said yes Became Mother of God New Adam Jesus emptied himself → Became Savior and gained the Eternal Paradise Heaven.

Remember this, those who choose their own will missed God's blessings.

Those who surrendered to God's will were exalted.

Biblical and Spiritual Models of Surrender:

The apostles remained fishermen in nature but redirected their will to become fishers of people.

Mary Magdalene's passion was not extinguished but elevated toward love of the Father.

Simon was transformed into Peter, the rock.

Saul became Paul, filled with Christ's love.

St. Augustine remained a seeker of truth—now in divine light.

St. Ignatius of Loyola, once a soldier, marched forward to win souls for Christ.

Fr. J.E. Arul Raj, though trained by OMI, directed his spirit to a universal mission.

St. Paul: A Model of Vocational Conversion

From persecutor to apostle, Paul's transformation began with a divine encounter (Acts 9:1–9). His life was marked by surrender and mission: "I am what I am because of Christ" (1 Cor. 15:10), "To live is Christ" (Phil. 1:21), "We preach not ourselves, but Christ" (2 Cor. 4:5), "I have been crucified with Christ" (Gal. 2:20).

DMI: Living God's Will

It is fundamentally about dissolving and becoming. Dissolving of one's will into the supreme grace, the patrimony of the founder. Surrendering my thinking, will, core competencies, desires, freedom, and aspirations into that higher will.

Higher will. Through this surrender, the becoming of a true DMI emerges. This surrender does not destroy individuality, but rather elevates and dignifies it. In dissolving our personal will, we do not lose our nature, we are transformed and empowered to become frontier missionaries. We come as individual persons, and through formation and transformation, we become the Individual DMI as one family.

Conclusion

To live 'God's will' is to die to self and be born anew in Christ. It is a sacred journey from ego to obedience, from personal ambition to divine mission. This path transforms, not destroys. To imitate Christ is to embrace: forgiveness rooted in mercy, compassion that serves, love without limits, humility before God, obedience in the unknown, prayer grounded in intimacy, a mission that never rests. True discipleship is not passive but it is dynamic surrender. In Jesus, we find the perfect model. Let our lives echo His words: "My food is to do the will of Him who sent me" (John 4:34). And each day, may we also pray and live this surrender for in it lies our true freedom, purpose, and fulfillment.

Mary's Fiat: The Power of Her 'Yes' to God

Introduction

In a quiet village of Nazareth, an encounter between a young girl and an angel changed the course of history. The angel Gabriel greeted Mary with the words, "Hail, full of grace, the Lord is with you" (Luke 1:28), and delivered a divine message that would forever shape the destiny of humanity. Her response, known as her "fiat" in Latin for fiat is "let it be" is one of the most powerful and transformative acts of obedience in human history. More than a simple "yes," Mary's fiat was a bold act of surrender, trust, and faith. It exemplifies the deepest form of cooperation with God's will and offers a model of faithful response for every believer.

Comprehension of the Fiat: "Let It Be Done to Me"

The word "fiat" comes from the Latin translation of Luke 1:38, where Mary responds to the angel: "Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord; let it be done to me according to your word." This is brief but profound statement contains layers of spiritual significance:

- Submission to God's will: Mary acknowledges her role as a servant of God, willingly placing herself in His plan.
- Total trust: Despite uncertainty, she entrusts her future to divine providence.

Active consent: Mary is not a passive recipient but an active participant in God's redemptive work.

Her fiat echoes the very words of creation, where God says, "Let there be light" (Genesis 1:3). Just as creation began with a divine fiat, redemption begins with Mary's fiat.

The Historical Setting of Her 'Yes'

Mary was likely a teenager when she was visited by angel Gabriel. In her cultural and religious context, an unmarried woman becoming pregnant risked public disgrace, rejection, and even death by stoning. Her "yes" was not spoken in comfort or safety. It involved real personal risk, fear of judgment, and a future filled with un-

Yet she responded not with resistance, but with faith. Her courage and humility form a striking contrast to the hesitations often found in Biblical figures (e.g., Moses, Jonah, or Zechariah). Mary's fiat is both simple and radical: a young girl, saying "yes" to a divine mystery she could not fully comprehend.

The Fiat as a Model of Discipleship

Mary's fiat is not just a historical event. It is an enduring spiritual proposal for discipleship:

1. Obedience without Full Understanding

Mary did not have all the answers. She only knew that God was calling, and she responded. In a world that often demands certainty, her example invites believers to trust even in mystery.

2. Openness to Grace

Mary's willingness created space for the Holy Spirit to work in her and through her. Every Christian is likewise called to receive and cooperate with grace.

3. Faith amid Fear

Mary's yes did not eliminate suffering from her life. She endured hardship, exile, misunderstanding, and ultimately watched her son suffer and die. Yet her initial “yes” gave her the strength to stand by Jesus all the way to the cross.

The Echo of the Fiat through the Ages

Mary’s fiat didn’t end at the Annunciation it continued throughout her life. At every stage the Visitation, the Nativity, the Presentation, the Flight into Egypt, and finally at the foot of the Cross she kept reaffirming her yes.

The early Church recognized Mary as the first and most faithful disciple. Her fiat is echoed in the lives of saints, martyrs, missionaries, and everyday believers who say “yes” to God in their own lives.

Modern Lessons from Mary’s Fiat

Today, Mary’s fiat remains deeply relevant:

- For those facing life-changing decisions, her trust is a guide.
- For those afraid of the unknown, her courage offers peace.

For those seeking to follow God, her obedience lights the path.

Her example is especially important in an age of self-will and control, reminding us of the spiritual power in surrender and humility.

Conclusion: The Power of a 'Yes'

Mary's fiat was not grand or dramatic by worldly standards. It was spoken in a humble home, by a quiet girl, far from any throne or temple. And yet, from that hidden act of surrender, salvation entered the world.

The power of Mary's "yes" reminds us that true greatness lies in faithfulness. Through her fiat, the Word became flesh and through our own small fiats, Christ can continue to be born into the world today.

May we, like Mary, have the courage to say:

"Let it be done to me according to your word."

The Emmanuel in Emmanuel God With Us, Always

There are names that carry history, and there are names that carry eternity. Emmanuel is one such name not merely a title, but a living promise. It means God with us a declaration whispered by prophets, fulfilled in a manger, and echoed in every heart that dares to believe. But to reflect on The Emmanuel in Emmanuel is to go deeper. It is to realize that within the word it lies a mystery, that God with us is not just a memory of Bethlehem, but a truth unfolding in every moment of our lives.

God with Us in the Silence

*"The Lord is not always found in thunder or fire. He is often found in the stillness, just as Elijah encountered Him in "a gentle whisper" (1 Kings 19:12)".*

We often imagine Emmanuel in the grandeur of miracles. Yet, more often, He reveals Himself in silence. In the stillness of prayer, in the quiet of dawn, in the pause between our hurried breaths, there He is, present without fanfare, near without noise. The Emmanuel in Emmanuel is not distant. He does not wait for us to climb mountains of perfection before He draws near. Instead, He chooses to step into the ordinariness of our days. He is God in the kitchen, God in the hospital ward, God in the crowded streets and the lonely corners. He is Emmanuel not above us, but with us.

God With Us in Our Struggles

"Do not fear, for I am with you, do not be afraid, for I am your God; I will strengthen you, I will help you" (Isaiah 41:10).

Life often feels like exile. We carry burdens too heavy, questions too deep, wounds too raw. In these valleys, we may wonder: Where is God? And yet, the Emmanuel in Emmanuel whispers: I am here. Not as a distant observer, but as one who shares our sorrows. In the tears that fall unnoticed, in the prayers that seem unanswered, He is the God who suffers with us, the God who carries the cross alongside us. Emmanuel is not the absence of pain but the presence of love within it. He transforms our darkness by entering it, our weakness by embracing it, our loneliness by inhabiting it. Every scar we bear can become a reminder: we were never abandoned.

God With Us in Community

"For where two or three are gathered in my name, I am there among them" (Matthew 18:20).

Emmanuel is not a solitary gift. God-with-us means God-with-us-together. He is revealed when hearts beat in unison, when hands reach to lift another, when voices rise in prayer and hope. The Emmanuel in Emmanuel is seen in the smile of a child, the embrace of a friend, the courage of those who work for justice, the patience of those who forgive. Whenever compassion flows, Emmanuel lives. Whenever love is chosen over indifference, He is present again. And so, God with us becomes God through us.

Each of us is invited to become a reflection of Emmanuel to carry His presence into places of despair, to embody His tenderness in a world too often harsh, to be His nearness for those who feel alone.

God With Us in Mission

Before leaving His disciples, Jesus promised: "And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age" (Matthew 28:20).

To believe in Emmanuel is not only to receive comfort; it is to accept a mission. The God who comes to dwell among us also sends us forth. Just as the Word became flesh and entered history, we are called to enter into the struggles of others. The Emmanuel in Emmanuel means that His presence is not confined to churches and altars. It extends into classrooms, hospitals, workplaces, and homes through us. We are to be Emmanuel-bearers, people whose lives proclaim: God is with you.

A Promise That Never Fades

"I will never leave you or forsake you" (Hebrews 13:5).

Bethlehem was not the end of Emmanuel; it was the beginning. Every dawn that breaks the night, every reconciliation that heals a wound, every act of faith that lifts a weary heart these are signs that Emmanuel still abides. The Emmanuel in Emmanuel is the God who came, the God who comes, and the God who will come again. He is presence in the manger, presence in the Eucharist, presence in the least of our brothers and sisters, presence in the depths of our own hearts.

Conclusion

To say Emmanuel is to breathe hope. It is to know that we are never alone, that love has entered our history, and that God's nearness is not a passing season but an eternal reality.

The Emmanuel in Emmanuel is more than a name.

It is a heartbeat, a promise, a mission. It is God who walks with us, God who abides within us, and God who longs to shine through us.

Emmanuel: God With Us in Jesus and in His Servant

The name Emmanuel reverberates over the centuries as a guarantee of hope, of closeness, of divine nearness. It is a name declared for the first time by the words of the prophet Isaiah: "The virgin will conceive and bear a son, and will call him Emmanuel" (Isaiah 7:14). Centuries afterward, the gospel of Matthew bears witness to its fulfillment in Jesus: "They shall call his name Emmanuel, which means, God with us" (Matthew 1:23). Emmanuel is not just a name; it is a mystery—divine in origin, but profoundly human in experience. It is a fusion of heaven and earth, a reality that speaks to hearts and changes lives.

Jesus: The First Emmanuel

When the Son of God was born in Bethlehem, He came completely into the human experience. He did not stay aloof deity gazing down upon humanity but became Emmanuel—God with us. Each of His life moments demonstrated God's closeness: from His private years in Nazareth to His public ministry, Jesus became Emmanuel in concrete forms. He greeted children with affection, touched the leper with sympathy, and fed thousands with humble loaves and fish.

On the Cross, Emmanuel's presence shone most deeply. Forsaken, ridiculed, and suffering, He stayed with His people in their deepest suffering.

His Resurrection guaranteed that God's presence cannot be defeated; as He vowed, "And behold,

I am with you always, to the very end of the age" (Matthew 28:20). Jesus is Emmanuel—yesterday, today, and forever—reminding us that divine love never forsakes those who seek it.

Emmanuel in Our Times: Rev. Fr. J. E. Arul Raj

But Emmanuel's journey did not end in the Gospels. It lives on wherever people incarnate God's presence among us. In contemporary times, one such witness is Rev. Fr. J. E. Arul Raj, the founder of the Daughters of Mary Immaculate (DMI) and the Missionaries of Mary Immaculate (MMI).

Fr. Arul Raj was born with a burning desire for God and His people. He thought that the Gospel is not only a body of teachings but a living reality intended to change the world. Just as Jesus was Emmanuel in His acts of love, Fr. Arul Raj was Emmanuel in his radical availability to the poor, the oppressed, and the marginalized. His motto, "All to All," reflected this radical availability—he gave himself completely to God's cause and to the service of humankind.

Through his vision, faith communities flourished: institutions where children are blessed with dignity and knowledge, missions where hope overtakes despair, and congregations where the love of Christ is lived out in action. Fr. Arul Raj's Emmanuel was not theoretical; it was earthy, practical, and redemptive.

In his leadership of sisters and missionaries, in his relentless ministry, and in his unflinching pastoral care, he made God's presence real to all whom he met.

In his own words: "Mission is nothing but Emmanuel lived out—God being present to His people through us." It was this belief that made his life a living testimony: a servant of God, but a reflection of Jesus' compassion, leadership, and self-giving love.

A Legacy of Emmanuel

Fr. Arul Raj's life is reminiscent of St. Paul's statement: "It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me" (Galatians 2:20). He let himself be a channel of God's presence, allowing Christ to be worked out on earth through human hands. Each school that educates a child, each mission that revives hope in a village, each community that sees Christ's love—all carry out the work of Emmanuel through his life and ministry.

His "All to All" motto is not a slogan; it is a plan for living Emmanuel. By being fully available—spiritually, emotionally, and practically—He shows us that God's presence is seen most clearly when it flows through human action. Fr. Arul Raj encourages us that Emmanuel is not just Jesus' title but a vocation for every Christian: to make God present in small ways and big ways, where we are.

Conclusion: Emmanuel, Yesterday and Today

To see Jesus as Emmanuel is to see God's eternally near presence. To see Emmanuel in Fr. J. E. Arul Raj is to observe how that presence still radiates through human hearts and lives, out into the Church and into active love and service. His life reminds us that Emmanuel is both divine and human, heavenly but earthly, eternal but present in time.

Looking upon Jesus, Emmanuel Himself, and His servant, Fr. Arul Raj, we are challenged to bring this Emmanuel spirit into our own lives. To be Emmanuel today means to be a reflection of God's nearness, concern, and love in the world today.

"Emmanuel, God with us"—in Jesus who lived among us, and in His servant Fr. Arul Raj who made His presence felt in our times.

"Like a Sparrow: The Joy of Happy Community Life"

In the gentle rustle of the morning trees and the soft glow of the rising sun, a tiny sparrow flutters from branch to branch, singing her song with quiet confidence. She is small, unassuming, and often overlooked but in her humble way, she reflects the very essence of a joyful, united community.

Just like the sparrow, a happy community doesn't need grand structures or loud proclamations. It thrives in togetherness, simplicity, and shared purpose. Every member, no matter how small or quiet, brings a unique note to the song of life.

Living Simply, Sharing Freely

The sparrow does not hoard. She finds what she needs and moves on, always ready to share space and sky with others. In a happy community, we too learn to live simply not clinging to possessions, but opening our hands and hearts. We share meals, ideas, time, and laughter, building bonds deeper than material things.

Supporting Each Other Through Storms

When dark clouds gather, sparrows huddle close. They don't abandon each other.

Similarly, a strong community stays united through life's storms. When one stumbles, others lift them up. When someone celebrates, all rejoice. The burden becomes lighter, and joy becomes fuller.

Singing Each Other's Songs

Sparrows are known not only for their presence but for their cheerful chirping a song that calls others, comforts, and unites. In community life, this song becomes our encouragement. We listen, we affirm, we celebrate each other's gifts. Whether it's a young one learning or an elder remembering, every voice is part of the harmony.

Building Together, One Twig at a Time

A sparrow's nest is built one twig at a time, carefully and patiently. A happy community, too, is not built in a day. It takes effort, patience, and love — through forgiveness, service, and faithfulness in small things. Each kind act, each honest word, is a twig woven into a secure home for many.

Finding God in the Smallest Moments

Even Jesus spoke of the sparrow, reminding us that not one falls to the ground without the Father knowing. How much more, then, does God dwell among us in our communities in the shared prayer, in the breaking of bread, in every act of kindness? A happy community is where God is felt deeply, not just in temples, but in the heart of daily life.

Conclusion:

Be Like the Sparrow

Let us be like the sparrow — small, yet mighty in love; simple, yet rich in joy. In a world often driven by noise and ambition, we can choose the quiet strength of community: where love is enough and every heart has a home.

Let your community be a nest of peace, where all are welcome, all are loved, and all can sing freely under the wide sky of God's grace.

I Am at the Business of the Father”:

The Life of Fr. Arul raj in the Light of St. Augustine

St. Augustine's famous confession “Our hearts are restless until they rest in Thee, O Lord” captures the deep longing of every soul for God. Rev. Father Founder. J.E. Dr. J.E. Arul raj OMI, founder and missionary priest, gave this same conviction a practical voice when he declared: "I am at the business of the Father." His life story, like Augustine's, is that of a heart that could never rest in comfort or compromise but only in the service of God.

Genesis (Early Roots) :

Born in Rajakkamangalamthurai, which is a coastal village in Tamil Nadu, Rev. Father Founder. J.E. Arul raj grew up in the simplicity which shaped him to discipline faith, and love. His father is a headmaster, who formed him in integrity and perseverance, while his mother nurtured him in faith and prayer. Much like St. Augustine, whose vocation was watered by the ceaseless prayers of his mother Monica who also, Rev. Father Founder J.E. Arul raj's early life were quietly preparing him to hear and follow God's call.

The Call to Mission

Rev. Father Founder J.E. Arul raj was Ordained as an Oblate priest in 1979. Rev. Father Founder J.E. Arul raj chose not the path of ease but of sacrifice. He volunteered to go where no one else would go to Pandaravedu, a remote village spoken of, as a "punishment area" in those days. Rev. Father Founder was appointed parish priest of St. Joseph Mission in 1981, he faced grim realities: deep poverty, caste discrimination, violence, and despair.

Where others saw only hardship, he discerned the whisper of God's will. St. Augustine wrestled with the inner emptiness of a life without God; as well as Rev. Father Founder J.E. Arul raj wrestled with the outer struggles of a people crushed by suffering. Both discovered the same truth, that which is fullness of life comes only in surrender to God's purpose.

A Restless Zeal

The missionary journey of Rev. Father Founder. J.E. Arul raj was marked by restlessness, not the unease of discontent but the urgency of love.

He could not remain still while children were left uneducated, while women endured exploitation, while families lived without dignity.

This holy restlessness became his strength, driving him to pour himself out completely for others.

His words, "I am at the business of the Father", were not only an idea but he lived in reality. Every challenge he endured, every sacrifice that he made, and every step that he proceeded was embraced as part of the Father's work.

The Legacy of a Life in God's Business:

Just as St. Augustine's restless search gave the Church timeless writings and profound insights, simultaneously Rev Father Founder. J.E. Arul raj's restless zeal gave to the world the living communities of faith, service, and hope. Yet his history is not only the story of foundations laid upon; it is the witness of a man who refused comfort, choosing instead the cost of discipleship. Like St. Augustine, who found true peace only when he rested in God, Similarly Rev. Father Founder J.E. Arul raj found his peace only in laboring for God.

His priesthood, his struggles, and his whole life were wholly entrusted to the Father's business.

Conclusion

Rev. Father Founder J.E Arul raj's life, reflected through the lens of St. Augustine, which significantly reveals truth that is timeless. The restless heart finds its peace not only in self, but in God. And that peace would discover mission. His journey was formed him in humble village in Tamil Nadu, which ultimately led to the difficult mission field of Pandaravedu teaches us that holiness is not found in ease, but in courage, sacrifice, and in an unyielding love. To tell his history, is to proclaim the story of a man, who with St. Augustine's conviction and a missionary's zeal, could able to proclaim with his life. "I am at the business of the Father."

Jubilee Year of Our Catholic Church: Celebrating Communion, Participation,

We thank the Lord with hearts so bright,
The years of faith, love,
and light.
Together we sing, together we cheer,

God bless our Church this Jubilee Year!

Introduction

This year, our Catholic Church joyfully celebrates the Jubilee Year a sacred milestone that invites us to remember God's faithfulness, to rejoice in our spiritual journey, and to renew our commitment to building a lively and united community. Rooted in the Church's universal call to holiness, our Jubilee is not only a celebration of years passed, but also a profound opportunity to deepen our understanding of what it means to be Church one that lives in communion, participation, and is driven by mission.

Inspired by Pope Francis' vision for a synodal Church and the spirit of renewal, we take this Jubilee Year to reflect on how we can grow together as a

Communion: One Body in Christ

"So in Christ we, though many are one body in Christ, and individually members of one another."

(Romans 12:5)

At the heart of our faith is communion our deep connection with God and with one another. As a church, we are not just a group of individuals; we are a family united in Christ. During this Jubilee Year, we are called to strengthen our bonds of unity through generations, ministries, and backgrounds. Through the Eucharist, prayer, and shared fellowship, we experience the real presence of Christ among us. Let this year be a time of healing any divisions, reconciling relationships, and confirming that we all belong in the Body of Christ.

Participation: Everyone Has a Role

"Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace in its various forms"
(1 Peter 4:10)

The Church is not complete without your voice and your gifts. This Jubilee reminds us that every baptized person has a role to play. Whether in liturgy, support, teaching, youth ministry, or simple acts of kindness, we are invited to participate fully in the life of the Church.

Let this Jubilee Year empower every member of our congregation to step forward, get involved, and contribute to the mission of our Church with generosity and love. When we work together, the Holy Spirit will move more powerfully among us.

Mission: Sent Forth to Serve

"For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many"
(Mark 10:45)

Our Jubilee celebration is not only inward-looking. It is also a call to go external to live our faith confidently and bring the love of Christ to others. Mission means serving the poor, welcoming the foreigner, visiting the sick, and being a light in our communities. This year, we renew our missionary spirit by launching outreach programs, parish service days, and evangelization efforts that go beyond our church walls. As disciples of Jesus, we are sent forth to transform the world with hope, compassion, and justice.

Conclusion

As we journey through this Jubilee Year, we give thanks for the past, we celebrate the present, and we embrace the future with faith.

Through the guiding themes of Communion, Participation, and Mission, we are reminded of who we are as Church a people united in love, working together, and always reaching out in service.

May this Jubilee not be just a celebration of years, but a renewal of hearts, a revival of purpose, and a rekindling of faith? Let us walk together as one body, with open hearts and willing hands, ready to continue the beautiful mission that Christ has entrusted to us.

“To Him is glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, forever and ever. Amen.”(Ephesians 3:21)
